A: I think it's a 32-bit binary installers (Win32). The installer file is named Cabri_II_Plus_1.4.5_8.2.1_Win32.exe and has size 3.6MB (3.63615618093 MiB). It's a Windows Installer (MSI) file and it also contains a.NET Runtime. The package also contains 2*PPM files: Cabri_II_Plus_1.4.5_8.2.1_Win32_Setup_PPM.exe and Cabri_II_Plus_1.4.5_8.2.1_Win32_Setup_S64.exe with size 40.8 MiB and 40.7 MiB. The installer doesn't contain any (just the self-extracting). The setup file contains some blobs and the license and the license signature. The setup creates the (D:\) folder and the contains the Cabri_II_Plus_1.4.5_8.2.1_Win32_Setup_S64.exe. Some screenshots: And some steps to install the Cabri_II_Plus_1.4.5_8.2.1_Win32.exe on Vista (32-bit): Extract Cabri_II_Plus_1.4.5_8.2.1_Win32.exe: Open Cabri_II_Plus_1.4.5_8.2.1_Win32.exe: Install Q: Removing padding from Canvas Drawing I have a couple of functions I'm using to draw stuff on canvas elements. I'm also adding other elements via another function, but I don't want any padding or margins on these elements. So if I do something like function draw(item, owner){ ctx.beginPath(); ctx.fillStyle = owner.color; ctx.rect(item.x, item.y, item.width, item.height); ctx.fill(); ctx.closePath(); } function add(item, owner){ if(owner.label){ f678ea9f9e
